

My Heaven
(J. Scaturro)

Would you tell me I'm strong.
Would you tell me I'm good.
Even if I can't, now, would you tell me I could See it's in my eyes.

Something I can't hide.
Even though I'll never have it all, I don't mind

('cause) I found my heaven in you
I must have died and gone to a lonely heaven, heaven without you.

Could I tell you you're smart?
And the sweetest thing?
Did you know I lose myself, every time you sing?

You won't be coming home, I know
(no) matter how I pray
Nothing I can do to, make you want to say

I found my heaven in you
I must have died and gone to a perfect heaven, heaven with you.

I found my heaven in you.
It's not a heaven for two.
my lonely heaven
is me without you
I'm in heaven
